

Torture, Conscience and the Catholic Moral Tradition
March 19, 2009, 1 – 9 pm, Slowinski Courtroom

Register for this free event and free dinner by March 17 by clicking on NRCAT Partners at www.nrcat.org

Three dynamic panels featuring nine expert theologians, academics, and military personnel including:

- Doug Cassel – Director, Center on Civil and Human Rights at Notre Dame University
- Josh Casteel, Arabic linguist and former US Army interrogator at Abu Ghraib Prison and author of Letters from Abu Ghraib
- Steve Colecchi, Director of the Office of International Justice and Peace, United States Conference of Catholic Bishops
- Maryann Cusimano Love, Associate Professor of International Politics, Catholic University of America
- Mary Fabri, PHD, Senior Director, Torture Treatment Services & International Training. Heartland Alliance Marjorie Kovler Center
- Colonel Patrick Lang, Served as the Defense Intelligence Officer for the Middle East and as the Director for the Human Intelligence Collection
- George Lopez, Joan B. Kroc Institute for International Peace Studies, Notre Dame University
- Margaret O'Brien Steinfels, Co-Director of the Center on Religion and Culture, Fordham University
- General Anthony Taguba, Chief Investigator of Abu Ghraib